Canterbury Health Laboratories Maintains Presence on Medical Sciences Council.

Kirsten Beynon, Operations Manager at Canterbury Health Laboratories (CHL) has been nominated as Deputy Chair of the Medical Sciences Council.

CHL General Manager Trevor English says “this is a great achievement and will mean that CHL remains represented at the very highest level of the New Zealand Sciences Council”

The Council have also extended their appreciation to Sue Carnoutsos, CHL Microbiology Cluster Manager who has provided invaluable leadership throughout her Chairperson role over the last 5 years. Sue has stepped down from her involvement on the Council after 12 years, and was their first woman chair.
